cheap n' good tip #1
First and foremost, get to know your local wine merchant! Your lawyer, your preacher, your local wine guy—these are the people you should keep in your hip pocket. Find a dedicated wine store close to you and put the staff to work sourcing the current Cheap n' Good on the market. That's what they're there for.

cheap n' good tip #2

Have an open mind! If you're used to drinking Chardonnay or Cabernet, know that they're among the most expensive grapes going. If you want to buy Cheap AND Good, you might have to expand your varietal/regional horizons a bit. And if the eight dollar Argentinean Torrontes didn't do it for you, don't despair—it was only eight dollars!
